General Information

California allows an enhanced oil recovery credit which is similar to the federal enhanced oil recovery credit under Internal Revenue Code (IRC) Section 43, with exceptions. Unless specifically identified otherwise, references in these instructions are to the IRC as of January 1, 2001, and to the California Revenue and Taxation Code (R&TC).

A Purpose

Use form FTB 3546 to figure and claim the enhanced oil recovery credit for enhanced oil recovery projects located within California. Also use this form to claim pass-through enhanced oil recovery credits received from S corporations, estates or trusts, partnerships, or limited liability companies (LLCs) classified as partnerships.

S corporations, estates or trusts, partnerships, and LLCs classified as partnerships should complete form FTB 3546 to figure the amount of credit to pass through to shareholders, beneficiaries, partners, or members. Attach this form to Form 100S, Form 541, Form 565, or Form 568. Show the pass-through credit for each shareholder, beneficiary, partner, or member on Schedule K-1 (100S, 541, 565, or 568).

B Description

The California enhanced oil recovery credit is available for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996. The tentative enhanced oil recovery credit is equal to 5% (representing 1/3 of the federal enhanced oil recovery credit) of the qualified enhanced oil recovery costs for qualified oil recovery projects located within California. See General Information F, Limitations, for further limitations on the enhanced oil recovery credit.

C California and Federal Differences

The federal enhanced oil recovery credit under IRC Section 43 and the California enhanced oil recovery credit under R&TC Sections 17052.8 and 23604 are generally the same, except that:

1. The California credit is equal to 5% of the qualified enhanced oil recovery costs for qualified oil recovery projects located within California, as opposed to the federal credit which is equal to 15% of the qualified enhanced oil recovery costs for qualified oil recovery projects located within the United States, including the seabed and subsoil adjacent to the territorial waters of the United States as defined under IRC Section 638(1).
2. California does not allow the enhanced oil recovery credit for the following taxpayers:
 - Taxpayers who are retailers of oil or natural gas that directly (or through a related person) sell oil or natural gas, excluding bulk sales of aviation fuels to the Department of Defense. See IRC Sections 613A(d)(2) and 613A(d)(3) for more information.
 - Taxpayers (or related persons) who are refiners of crude oil and, on any day during the taxable year, whose daily refinery output exceeded 50,000 barrels.
3. The California credit may be carried over for 15 years and is subject to limitations described in General Information F. The federal credit is part of the general business credit subject to the limitations imposed by IRC Section 38.

D Definitions

Qualified enhanced oil recovery costs means:

1. Any amount paid or incurred during the taxable year for tangible property located within California:
 - That is an integral part of a qualified enhanced oil recovery project in California; and
 - For which depreciation (or amortization) is allowable.
2. Any intangible drilling and development costs:
 - That are paid or incurred in connection with a qualified enhanced oil recovery project located within California; and
 - For which the taxpayer may make an election to capitalize and amortize such costs under IRC Section 263(c) and R&TC Sections 17201 and 24423.
3. Any qualified tertiary injectant expenses paid or incurred in connection with a qualified enhanced oil recovery project located within California.

Note: For California Personal Income Tax Law and Corporation Tax Law purposes, tertiary injectant costs must be capitalized and deducted through depreciation because California has not conformed to the provisions of IRC Section 193.

Qualified enhanced oil recovery project means any project located within California involving the application of one or more tertiary recovery methods defined in IRC Section 193(b)(3), and mentioned below, that can reasonably be expected to result in more than an insignificant increase in the amount of crude oil recovery.

Tertiary recovery methods qualifying for the credit include miscible fluid displacement, steam drive injection, microemulsion flooding, in situ combustion, polymer-augmented water flooding, cyclic-steam injection, alkaline (or caustic) flooding, carbonated water flooding, immiscible nonhydrocarbon gas displacement, or any other method approved by the Secretary of the Treasury.

E Basis

The basis of property must be reduced by the amount of the credit attributable to that property. Such a basis adjustment must be made for the taxable year in which the credit is allowed.

F Limitations

Federal election. If a taxpayer has no federal enhanced oil recovery credit due to making an election for an item of property under IRC Section 43(e), which is an election not to apply IRC Section 43 for federal tax purposes, the election is binding and irrevocable for California purposes and the California enhanced oil recovery credit with respect to that item of property is zero.

Ineligible taxpayers. Taxpayers that are not permitted to compute their depletion allowance under IRC Section 613 because they are retailers of oil or natural gas, certain related parties, and certain refiners of crude oil also cannot claim the California enhanced oil recovery credit. See IRC Sections 613A(d)(2) through 613A(d)(4) for more information on ineligible taxpayers.

Reduced credit. The credit is reduced when the reference price, determined under IRC Section 29(d)(2)(C), exceeds $28 per barrel. The $28 value is adjusted for inflation for years after 1991. If the reference price exceeds the base value of $28 (as adjusted by inflation) by more than $6, the credit is zero. For 2002, there is no reduction of the credit.

Corporate members of a unitary or combined group. This credit cannot be allocated or otherwise transferred to another taxpayer, even if the other taxpayer is a member of a unitary or combined group or otherwise affiliated with the taxpayer that earned the credit.

Other limitations.

- In the case where an item of property qualifies the taxpayer to take the enhanced oil recovery credit as well as any other California credit (such as the manufacturers' investment credit), the taxpayer must make an election on the original return for each year stating which one credit is being claimed. Such an election cannot be revoked except with the written consent of the Franchise Tax Board.

- S corporations may claim only 1/3 of the credit against the 1.5% entity-level tax (3.5% for financial S corporations). In addition, S corporations can pass through 100% of the credit to their shareholders.
- If a taxpayer owns an interest in a disregarded business entity (a single member LLC [SMLLC] not recognized [disregarded] by California for tax purposes treated as a sole proprietorship owned by an individual or a branch owned by a corporation), the credit amount received from the disregarded entity that can be utilized is limited to the difference between the taxpayer's regular tax figured with the income of the disregarded entity, and the taxpayer's regular tax figured without the income of the disregarded entity. An SMLLC may be disregarded as an entity separate from its owner, subject to certain statutory provisions that recognize otherwise disregarded entities for certain purposes including the tax and fee of an LLC, the return filing requirements of an LLC, and the credit limitations previously mentioned. Get Form 568, Limited Liability Company Income Tax Return, for more details.

Note: If the disregarded entity reports a loss, the taxpayer may not claim the credit this year but can carry over the credit amount received from the disregarded entity.

- This credit cannot reduce the minimum franchise tax (corporations and S corporations), annual tax (limited partnerships, limited liability partnerships, and LLCs), the alternative minimum tax (corporations, exempt organizations, individuals, and fiduciaries), the built-in gains tax (S corporations), or the excess net passive income tax (S corporations). This credit cannot reduce regular tax below TMT. See Schedule P (100, 100W, 540, 540NR, or 541) for more information.
- If this credit is taken in lieu of any deduction otherwise allowable for the same costs, any deduction allowed for the same costs must be reduced by the amount of credit claimed for the current taxable year (the amount shown on Part I, line 7).
- This credit is not refundable.

G Carryover

If the available credit exceeds the current year tax, the unused credit may be carried over to succeeding years. The maximum carryover period is 15 years. Apply the carryover to the earliest taxable year(s) possible.

In no event can the credit be carried back and applied against a prior year's tax.

If you have a carryover, retain all records that document this credit and carryover used in prior years. Access to these records may be required by the Franchise Tax Board.

Specific Line Instructions

Credit Computation

Line 1

Enter the total qualified enhanced oil recovery costs paid or incurred during the taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 2002, for qualified enhanced oil recovery projects located within California.

Line 3

If you received more than one pass-through credit from S corporations, estates or trusts, partnerships, or LLCs classified as partnerships, add the amounts and enter the total on line 3. Attach a schedule showing the names and identification numbers of the entities from which the credit(s) were passed through to you.

Line 5

Enter the amount from your 2001 form FTB 3546, Part II, line 6, column (e).

Line 7

The amount of this credit you can claim on your tax return may be limited further. Refer to the credit instructions in your tax booklet for more information. These instructions also explain how to claim this credit on your tax return. You must use credit code number 203 when you claim this credit. Also see General Information F, Limitations.
